

The CLIMB® Coordinator's Forum

This forum has been created as a professional support tool and service of The Children's Treehouse Foundation (CTF). Whether you have been through our training workshop and are in the initial stages of launching the CLIMB® Program at your facility or you have been running the program and need ongoing support and feedback from other professionals who are coordinating CLIMB® at their location, we encourage you to:

- Share the ideas and adaptations that have worked well for your CLIMB® Program
- Ask for advice among your peers to find solutions to challenges and unanticipated situations
- Ask general or specific questions to help you be more successful in your efforts to support children whose parents or grandparents have cancer

Given the nature of the comments to be shared here, it is necessary that you be familiar with, and in agreement with, the rules, policies and disclaimers required for such a public forum. Thoroughly read the rules, policies and disclaimers listed below. By choosing to participate in The CLIMB® Coordinator's Forum, you agree that you have read and agree to abide by the rules of participating in this forum.

If you do not agree to these terms, simply do not participate in the Forum or you may contact The Children's Treehouse Foundation and ask to be removed from the Forum.

Welcome to The CLIMB® Coordinator's Forum, where you will have the opportunity to share your experiences, interests and comments with other professionals who will benefit from your contributions and from whom you will benefit when they share their experiences.

This culturally sensitive Forum is for sharing ideas and support and is not to be used in place of advice or a consultation with your supervisors or institutional directives. Please share your family support experiences and practices, but not medical advice. A dialogue based on actual experience safeguards the accuracy of information exchanged on this Forum.

CTF will be moderating all messages that are posted on the Forum. We cannot guarantee the validity of all the messages posted or the accuracy of the information that they contain. The information shared in these messages does not necessarily reflect the views of The Children's Treehouse Foundation.
